

Cut Flowers. Funeral Work.

H L Frost & Co, P. O. Block.
Faucy Baldwin Apples $2.50 per barrel.

Central Dry Goods Company have just received 35 dozen samples of

Gentlemen's Fancy Dress Shirts

sold for $1, $1.25 and $1.50.

Our price, 74 cents.

477 Massachusetts Avenue.

REMEMBER THE MANE, OLD MAN!

with a gentle reminder that we have all kinds of stable and horse goods for "turf, field and farm." whips, ear nets, fly nets, lap cloths, sheets and blankets, as well as a superb stock of fine harnesses and saddles. Our goods are all in the latest styles and of the best manufacture.

Arlington Harness Co Fowl's Block, Arlington

FREE! FREE! FREE!

A Beautiful Oak Rocker given absolutely free.

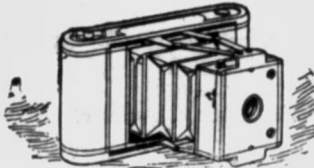

Call at our store and procure a special cash offer card. Have the amount of every cash sale punched from the card, and when your purchases amount to 20.00 return the card to us and we will deliver at your home a splendid oak rocker entirely free of charge. The retail price of the rocker is $4.00 and can be seen in our show window.

I. E. ROBINSON & CO., POST OFFICE BLOCK,
633 Massachusetts Avenue

Kodaks Cameras

of 11 kinds, new and second-hand, always on hand. Films and plates developed. A full supply in stock

The Eastman
Folding Kodak
has no equal

At same old drug store,

A. A. TILDEN'S

Arlington Central Pharmacy

ESTABLISHED 1883

618 Mass. Ave.

For a good suit of clothes and a guaranteed fit, go to

J. J. LOFTUS,
the leading tailor
Fall Patterns Now In.

Repairing Neatly Done.

Sherburne Building, Arlington,

Still at the Top

W. H. Webber & Son,
KEEP COOL

R. W. LeBARON,
Electrician and Contractor.

Fan Motors, Electric Flat Irons, Electric Stoves, Curling Iron Heaters, Incandescent Lamps, all styles and candle power. Electric Lights, Bells and Telephones installed. Medical Batteries sold and repaired.

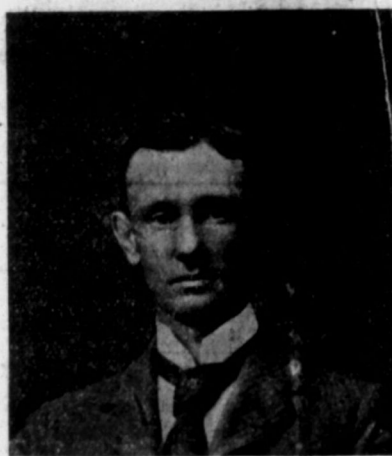

Telephone Connection.

478 Mass. Avenue,

Arlington, Mass.

Free

AGAIN CHOSEN.

The representative republican convention met in the Town Hall on Monday evening. Mr. George W. W. Sears chairman of the republican district committee called the convention to order at 7.30 o'clock. On motion of Henry W. Lewis, Mr. J. H. Frizzelle, of Lexington, was chosen President, with George G. Allen, Secretary. President Frizzelle on taking the chair, thanked the convention for the honor conferred, and then waited the pleasure of the convention. The following committee on credentials were appointed by the chair: Henry W. Lewis, of Lexington, and W. W. Rawson and A. T. Marston of Arlington. The papers being all right the following delegates were admitted:— Lexington, George W. Sampson, Arthur F. Hutchinson, Henry W. Lewis, Frank T. Mann, J. H. Frizzelle, Frank W. Herrick, Charles E. Hadley and Albert H. Burnham. From Arlington:—A. T. Marston, George W. W. Sears, Ernest Moore, Edward S. Fessenden, William M. Winn, George G. Allen, Theodore Schwamb, Walter H. Peirce, Alfred H. Knowles, William E. Lloyd, Horace A. Freeman and W. W. Rawson. The next business of the convention was the nomination of a candidate for representative.

Mr. George W. Sampson of Lexington, in nominating Mr. Crosby, addressed the convention as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:

"It gives me great pleasure to be present at the 13th Middlesex Representative Convention, that district which received its birth by the courtesy of the Middlesex County Commissioners, principally on request from Lexington Republicans, who were tired of fighting Concord and desired this change, the better to be able to fight among themselves. The result has been that the quiet caucuses of years ago, when the only anxiety was to beat Concord, are now changed to the more healthy and lively affairs of the present time, that state of activity which saves any party from political rot, and is the strongest guarantee for the freest and best expression of the will of the people.

Even so the conventions have shown as marked a change in the other direction. Where we had the plain-speaking, lie-giving, fist-shaking Bedford conventions of the past, where the nominee was usually afraid to be present, and accepted his nomination in a letter to the district committee, and where the nomination itself was rarely made unanimous, we have the present, and the pleasant method, as now carried out, where Republicans of the two towns sit down in harmony together, ready to exclaim with the olden prophets "it is good for us to be here."

Republicans of Arlington, I am charged with a pleasant duty, and fellow-members of this convention in performing that duty, I am expressing the unanimous feeling of all who are here assembled, in placing in nomination for a second term the gentleman who has rendered so good an account of his stewardship.

We of Lexington have not been represented in the lower house by a lawyer for just 20 years, so that our previous experience did not frighten us when we heard from some of the people of this district that we were to be represented by a farmer, a practical horse-sense, clear-headed young man who would be able to advocate a good law, or oppose a bad one, as well as a lawyer.

We had no doubt that whatever might be his walk in life, the Chairman of the Republican Town Committee of the town of Arlington was a man who could be trusted to represent this district and do it well. In this connection permit me to congratulate the Republicans of Arlington on their magnificent leadership and splendid organization. It is fitting and right that they who manfully stand at the guns and do battle at the polls, should sit down at the first table when the ratons of victory are passed out, and I am glad to see that this is the order of things in the Arlington end of the district.

Now as to the candidate. His has been a record of which his district may well be proud. In committee on the floor, in private conversation, and in public debate, his influence has been steadily for his district, county and state and verily the end has crowned the work. Crosby of Arlington is no unknown quantity in legislative affairs today. Trusted by his associates, unknown only to the lobby, respected by his district, esteemed by his town and loved by his friends, what better record can any man have or want. Mr. Chairman, in behalf of the Republicans of Lexington and the district, I move the nomination by acclamation of our next representative, Mr. J. Howell Crosby of Arlington."

The motion was carried with enthusiasm. The president then declared Mr. Crosby the unanimous choice of the convention. Henry W. Lewis, of Lexington, and W. W. Rawson, of Arlington, were appointed a committee to bring Mr. Crosby before the convention. Mr. Crosby making his appearance was received with three rousing cheers and a "tiger." The nominee in accepting the nomination, made a pleasing and taking speech as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:—

"I take it that this is neither the time nor place for flippant words. You can well believe that I appreciate to the fullest this renewed expression of your confidence and that I desire to extend to you and to the people whom you represent, my sincerest thanks.

My experience in public life has been short, but it has been of sufficient length for me to learn that the 13th Middlesex District differs radically from many of the districts of the Commonwealth. If I understand the people of this district aright, they demand that the man who represents them shall be diligent in their service and incorruptible in motive, but once assured of this, they grant him the largest freedom of action and are willing, if necessary, to cover his failures with the cloak of charity. The people of this district start no back fires against the man they send to represent them, nor do they threaten him with political death for voting his convictions, nor do they for purely local and selfish reasons attempt him to vote against the best interests of all the people. And this is why, Mr. Chairman, I am proud to be the representative of this people, and this is also the reason that the representative of this district, may be, as he should be, a true representative of the Commonwealth as far as in him lies.

I do not forget to-night that this is a Republican Convention or that I am the nominee of that party, and yet, happily for Mass., party lines are drawn so loosely in her legislature, that a candidate for membership in that body is unable to define specifically his attitude on any great and pending party measure for the very good reason that, generally speaking, such measures do not exist.

Owing to peculiar conditions, with which we are all familiar, the Republican party in Massachusetts finds itself, for the time being, without a formidable opponent. I cannot believe this condition to be an unmitigated blessing. Individual manhood is stimulated and its best attributes brought forth by a strenuous striving for the mastery. I believe this also to be true of parties. There is nothing so conducive to the vigorous health of a great party as frequent contact with a minority at once powerful and united. I believe a prolonged continuance of present circumstances will constitute a certain menace to the Republican party as tending to produce great apathy among the rank and file and laxness of responsibility in high places.

I believe that an early recognition of these dangers and a constant remembrance of them, is essential in these days of unprecedented party prosperity, in averting future disaster and in keeping the grand old party along the high level of her way.

And so, Mr. Chairman, it is my duty and the duty of every Republican in public office, so to guard and scrutinize each official act, that the result may be worthy, not only of the Republican party, but of the Commonwealth itself, which is far better.

Thomas B. Reed has recently given utterance to the thought that public office regarded as an ornament to be worn, is not worthy of the serious consideration of any man, but that public office viewed as opportunity, merits the earnest striving of every citizen. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, every right thinking man knows in his heart that the great speaker is right. Public office as a badge to be worn is a temptation. It is a temptation to selfishness, to exclusiveness and to conceit. Its tendency is to exalt and accentuate those characteristics of human nature which are far better held in obedience, but public office conceived as opportunity is an invitation to service, to responsibility; and to all that broadens and ennobles men. It means standing shoulder to shoulder with earnest men, and doing one's little towards the grand sum total; it means, at times, arraying one's self uncompromisingly with a little band of sterling spirits in vehement protest, or perhaps the privilege of casting the deciding vote for some great measure in desperate straits. If again elected by the people of Arlington and Lexington, I pledge myself to bring to this office and to its duties such a conception as shall be compatible with the present character of this district and its past glorious history.

Mr. Chairman and fellow Republicans: I accept this nomination with a full knowledge of the responsibilities accompanying it. It is at once a high privilege and a solemn duty. I pity the man whose only ambition for this office is to flaunt it as a badge of distinction in the faces of his fellows, and I disapprove him who so far fails in comprehending his duty to his state, his district and his own manhood as to barter the opportunities of this office for gain.

I am proud tonight, with a proper pride, so far to possess the confidence of the people of this district as to be twice named to represent their interests and rights in the General Court of Mass. and I solemnly promise, if reelected, to use my utmost endeavor to prove in some degree worthy of this great trust."

Henry W. Lewis of Lexington was added to the district committee.

On motion of Mr. Sears it was voted that in case of the death or withdrawal of the candidate, the district committee be empowered to fill the vacancy.

No further business coming before the

The best art stores sell them at high prices, but we have just purchased 1000 of them of a leading art dealer at a price that enables us to present them without any charge whatever to everybody who will buy three dollars' worth—and please bear in mind that it is not necessary to buy the three dollars' worth at one time. Use this punch card, and when your combined purchases amount to three dollar's worth you may take your choice of the Passepartouts.

We give purchasers the best value in town, and our styles are the latest and best.

PERHAM'S PHARMACY, P. O. BLD'G.

convention, it was voted to adjourn. Then Mr. George W. W. Sears invited the delegates, with the friends present, on behalf of Mr. Crosby, to a "spread" at Hardy's cafe. Every man readily fell into line, and marched straight for Hardy's best. The table tastefully laid, was laden with good things to eat. Lobster salad, oysters in every style of dish, chicken croquette, green peas, vanilla, strawberry ice cream, frozen pudding, cake and so on to the end of the list. With the serving of the supper came the cigars. Caterer Hardy never fails to fill the bill. The thirty-eight guests present had a jolly good time, and when they left, they went shouting the praises of Crosby and Hardy.

BALL OF DIV. 23.

The first grand ball of the season was held Thursday evening by Division 23, Ancient Order of Hibernians, in Town Hall.

For the first time since the organization of the society two o'clock saw the last dance, it having been customary to have the dancing continued till four o'clock. There were no decorations of bunting and flags, but the platform was handsomely set with palms, rubber plants, and ferns, which partially screened Prof. Wigg's orchestra.

Promptly at eight o'clock the orchestra commenced the concert and the following program was rendered:

March Soldiers in the park Tobany
Overture East of the roses Munklet
Waltzes Camp's grounds Rice
Overture Memories of Ireland Catlin
Galop In the ring Fox

The grand march was then taken up, the same being led by Mr. David Sliney and Miss Katie Donovan, they being followed by about seventy couples; but as the time passed the dancers continued to arrive, so that by eleven o'clock there were about 300 on the floor. President Edmond Reardon was floor director, Thomas McCarthy, assistant; while they were ably assisted by their aids, Denis O'Keefe, J. J. Sexton, M. S. Drew, Dr. Charles A. Keegan, Frank O'Neill, James P. Daley, Patrick O'Connell, David Sliney, P. J. Ahern, Denis Buckley, D. J. O'Leary.

Reception committee, Patrick Quinn, C. P. Cronin, John McGrath, Patrick Hurley, Sr., Cornelius O'Leary.

The committee of arrangements were Edmond Reardon, Thomas McCarthy, Denis O'Keefe, J. J. Sexton, Patrick Quinn, Dr. Keegan, David Sliney, Cornelius P. Cronin, D. J. O'Leary.

The usual supper was also dispensed with this year, yet in spite of this the fifteenth annual ball of Division 23 proved a grand success and was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

The following were present:

E. Reardon and wife, Dr. W. Grannan, Thomas J. Donovan, James P.
Daley and wife, Miss Julia Haley, Miss
Mary McGrath, Miss Nora Sullivan,
John Daley, Wm. Merrigan, Frank
Rowe, John Moran, Margaret J. Cronin,
Hanna Hogan, Portsmouth, N. H.,
Nellie Cronin, Newton, Cornelius Cronin, Jeremiah Sweeney, C. P. Cronin,
Robert Doherty, Dr. Keegan, J. Sexton and wife, Denis Keefe and wife, Thomas Breslin and wife, Michael Bowler and wife, Denis Keefe, Jr., P. Daley, James Golden, Michael Ryan, Denis Buckley
and wife, John Haggerty, T. McCarthy,
John Dacy, Tom Kenney, Miss Rowe,
Maggie Ryan, William Ryan, C. Leary,
M. Toomey and wife, George Ahearn,
T. Bresnahan and wife, P. Sullivan,
Daniel Cleary, Joseph Farrington, Patrick Cullinane, David Flynn, Herbert
Johnson, Mossy Roache, Wm. Foster,
Katie Cullen, Matt Cronin, Maggie Cullen, Patrick Cahill, Patrick Hurley, John McCarthy, Mamie Donahue, Hannah McNamara, John McCarthy and wife, John Sliney and wife, Joseph Law,
Jerry Sliney, Edward Dacy, Frank
Tobin, C. Coughlin, Mary Foley, James Dolan, Maggie Mulcahy, P. Connor and wife, John Dorgan, Norah Roache, Julia
Hayes, Mary Sullivan, Patrick Quinn.

Established 1826.

Arlington Insurance Agency

George V. Wellington & Son, Agents.

Eight Mutual Companies, Ten Stock Companies. Office open daily and Wednesday and Saturday evenings.
Savings Bank Building, Arlington Avenue.

Wm. Caldwell, Furniture Carpets

We furnish the entire house from cellar to attic.

Our Fall Goods Ready for Inspection.

Morris chairs from	$5.00 to $15.00
Ladies' rockers from	2.00 to 6.00
desks from	5.00 to 16.00
Iron beds from	5.00 to 16.00
Mattresses from	3.00 to 5.00
Parlor stoves	3.50 to 20.00

Agents for Crawford, Glenwood and Herald Grand Ranges.

Whist tables and chairs to let.

Furniture and piano moving

9-11 Mystic street, Arlington

DON'T LOSE THE CHANCE!

We have a few of these stoves left which we will sell at a greatly reduced price for cash:

Large 3 burner step stove and oven, former price $13.50;
price to close $10.12

Small 2 burner stove and oven, former price $9.50; price to close $7.62

S. STICKNEY & CO.,

ARLINGTON ENTERPRISE

Published every Saturday morning at No. 620
Massachusetts avenue,
$1.00 a year, in advance; Single copies, 25 cents.

F. H. GRAY, PUBLISHER.
WILSON PALMER, EDITOR.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 wk. 2 wks. 1 mo. 3 mos. 6 mos. 1 yr.
line, 75c. $1.00 $1.50 $2.00 $4.00 $6.00
Additional inches at same rate
Advertisements placed in the local column
10 cents per line.
Help and situation wants, for sale, to let,
etc., 12 1/2 cents per line; nothing taken less than two lines.

RENOMINATED.

Representative J. Howell Crosby was renominated by acclamation in convention assembled on Monday evening to the official position which he now fills. The Republican convention representing Lexington and Arlington, reflected credit upon its delegates by the enthusiastic unanimity in which it presented the name of Mr. Crosby. During his year of service at the State House, Mr. Crosby has been unceasing in his efforts to secure the greatest good to his constituency. Familiar with all questions affecting the public interest, he has uniformly been found upon the right side in all his legislative work. Honest in every way, the public readily trust him. Mr. Crosby has nothing of the trickster in politics about him. He can neither be bought nor sold. No lobbyist dare approach him. It is a healthful sign of the times when such men as J. Howell Crosby can be elected to positions of honor and trust. In his case it is "the office seeking the man." With a modesty that shrinks from notoriety, yet he has "the courage of his convictions." Mr. Crosby dares to do what seems to him right, in spite of the objector. He never dodges an issue. He manfully meets whatever comes in the line of his duty. He never misrepresents the time which belongs to those whom he serves so well, in laying ropes for continuance in office. To him as he so earnestly said in his happy acceptance of the nomination on Monday evening, "public office is an opportunity." Mr. Crosby is an able and faithful servant of the people, and he commends himself to the suffrages of the people as well as to the suffrages of his own party. Arlington could perform no worthier act than to give the vote of the town irrespective of party affiliation, to J. Howell Crosby as our next representative. Let us pile up the majority for him.

DEWEY IN BOSTON.

All New England was fairly upset on Saturday, the occasion being "Dewey Day" in Boston. We with a multitude of others, made our way to the "Hub" on that biggest of holidays, where we saw nearly everybody excepting Dewey. Somehow the admiral slipped us. But we saw the crowd, every man, woman and boy of which, was decorated with a miniature flag, and Dewey's face. It was Dewey, Dewey, everywhere. The small boy had caught the enthusiasm of the hour, so he with his companions rent the air with his loudest huzzas and his indefinite number of "tigers." No man in our country has ever created such an intense outburst of public applause as has Admiral Dewey. Go where he will, he hears little other than the glorification of his name. And even Boston, so reserved and dignified as she uniformly is, let herself loose on Saturday, and gave the Admiral an ovation such, as Dewey himself said, was in excess of any demonstration given him elsewhere. Let Boston forget but for a moment her "blue blood," then does she run wild in her enthusiasm. Sure it is that she did the handsomest thing on Friday evening and Saturday; and one of the most brilliant features of the whole affair was the elegant address made by Mayor Quincy, in extending to the admiral the hospitalities of the city, together with that watch so weighted with gold and diamonds. Mayor Quincy in his choice diction on Saturday, evinced the culture of his distinguished ancestry. The Mayor's address was in every way brilliant and timely. Mayor Quincy didn't "slop over"—while Mayor Van Wyck did. Admiral Dewey shows himself one of the most remarkable of men, that he keeps his head, amidst so much, that is demonstrative and laudatory of himself. His name is upon every lip, so that it was altogether natural that the little Sunday school boy in Boston when asked on last Lord's Day "who made him?" should have promptly replied, "Dewey." Admiral Dewey is to be both honored and admired for what he has accomplished for his country. He has earned first place among the heroes of the world, and his name will ever live in history. And yet it may be asked, if this American craze over his name is not somewhat excessive? We are convinced from what we have read of the admiral, that he will be glad when the time arrives in which he can be let alone. But then the American people never do things by the halves. In their spasmodic periods of enthusiasm, their conversation is in italics. A little removed from the war in which Admiral Dewey played such a magnificent and heroic part, history will accord him a prominent place among the heroes of the world. He is a remarkable demonstration of the possibilities of our American life.

A MISTAKE.

It is a mistake on the part of the Republican party to longer affirm that William J. Bryan is a back number.

The truth is that Bryan has never had a more intense following than he has today. He is a born leader of the masses. He comes near the people because he is one of them. His entire sympathy is with the industrial classes. Of wonderful magnetic power he draws to himself. Whenever Bryan speaks, the multitudes gather together. His 20,000 listeners at one gathering recently in Texas is proof positive that Bryan is not politically dead. William J. Bryan is sure to be made the nominee for the Presidency by the democratic party in 1900. New York state is already solid for him, with the great West alive for his candidacy. There is no man of the National democracy who is even his second in leadership. Crocker understands this fact, and so it is that he is among the first to shout for Bryan. Bryan is no less popular to-day than he was four years ago. The national republican party must early arrange its forces and put itself in fighting trim without delay.

President McKinley fortunately is getting in some good work on his western trip. There can be nothing gained by ignoring the strength of the national democracy. William J. Bryan has never been more alive than he is to-day.

CLAR ENUNCIATION.

In order that the public speaker shall make himself readily heard, clear and distinct enunciation is one of the first requisites of voice culture. It isn't so much volume of voice as it is a well defined articulation. The trouble with many of our platform speakers is the unfortunate fact that they literally eat their words, and then swallow their voice. The fault is often, too often recognized in the public schools. While the children are taught to "speak up loud," they are in many instances not taught to clearly enunciate. We have heard pupils in school speak with such stentorian voice as to make it disagreeable and even painful to the listener, and yet the spoken word was not made intelligible. And so it is with many of our clergymen—they do not lay stress enough upon what is termed articulation—they often mumble when they should speak out. And then they frequently assume that professional voice which is not of this world. If the pupil in school, and the clergyman in his pulpit would only speak in a clear conversational way, then even those in the back seats might hear. It is provoking to listen attentively, and then not be able to catch the word. The spoken word should be heard, whether uttered in the pulpit or in the choir; and yet there isn't one singer in many who so expresses herself in song, that one may easily catch the word she renders. Indeed, it would seem that the most of our church choirs act upon the principle that the greater the jargon, the better the music. Why not speak so as to be heard? The lips were made to give intelligible expression, and the ear was made to catch that expression. Those who may have heard the late Rev. Dr. Kirk preach, cannot have forgotten how easily the dullest ear caught all he said. What a pleasure it was to listen to him as he read those familiar words which run thus: "We love thy Kingdom Lord, the house of thine abode." And then there was Phillips—who ever missed a word of his public addresses? This power of articulate speech is a rare accomplishment, deserving of the utmost attention, both in the home and in the public school.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The South African war is on in earnest.

The Shamrock wasn't in it. Three straight heats won by the Columbia keeps the cup safely on this side of the waters.

President McKinley has made nearly a hundred speeches during his recent western trip, and meanwhile Bryan has not been idle.

It is with much pleasure and satisfaction, that we publish in this issue the communication signed "H" wherein the writer reproduces our head line of last week. "Why is it?" and in a manly way gives us his hearty approval of our right to expect a fair share of Arlington's public printing. The communication comes to us from one of the most prominent business men of Arlington and we especially prize it.

The biennial session of the Universalist general convention is now in session at the Second Universalist church in Boston, and will continue its sessions until Wednesday of next week. A number of the delegates to this convention are being entertained by the Universalist people of the town. Rev. C. E. Knickerbocker of Auburn, Me., a delegate to the convention will preach at the Universalist church Sunday morning. There will be no evening service as most of the Universalists of the town will attend the mass meeting at Music hall.

Why not say what you mean in every instance, and why not mean what you say? What earthly gain can come to one, by telling a down right lie, for the sake of smoothing things over, and seeming courteous thereby? Why say to your caller "I am so delighted to see you," when you wish she was in Guinea? Why laugh at the joke of the friend, when you don't see the joke at all? Why say "come again" when you don't mean it? Why not be truthful in act and word? We are heartily sick of and disgusted with those men and women who always meet you with a stony smile, and say, "why haven't you come before?" Give us the man and woman whose "yes" means "Yes" and whose "no" means "No." Don't attempt to be other than you are. It is quite impossible for you in the long run to pass yourself off for more than you are worth. Sensible people will find you out sooner or later.

Those early eastern writers often referred to the "mountains." The term occurs some four hundred times in the Bible. "Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain." "Let them shout from the top of the mountain." "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace." "How say ye to my soul, flee as a bird to your mountain."

"Break forth into singing ye mountains, for the Lord hath done it."

David says, "I will lift up mine eyes to the hills from whence cometh my help." Those of our readers who are familiar with the Rev. Dr. Henry M. Fields, "Across the Desert" must be impressed as never before, with the fact that much of the imagery and poetry of the sacred writers was born of that grand mountain scenery of the East, so we were in biblical line in writing so fully as we did in the last issue of the Enterprise of mountain scenery.

On Tuesday evening the Malden common council voted to concur with the aldermen, and enrolled the curfew ordinance. The provisions of the ordinance are similar to those passed in other places. All children under 16 years of age found on the streets after nine o'clock at night will be subject to a fine not exceeding five dollars. While such an ordinance may seem severe, still we believe that the place for children is at home when the night comes on. The ordinance or curfew bell might well apply to those older than sixteen. It was only the other evening as we were making our way homeward from our office, we overtook the young man—or rather boy—delaying with his or some other one's girl, at the corner of one of our streets, and so nearly as we could judge they were in no haste to get home. Girls, in every instance, receive your gentlemen, or boy friends at your home, and never, never on the dark corner of a public street at a late hour of the evening. Don't let the curfew bell become a necessity in Arlington.

Mr. George W. Sampson, of Lexington, made a decided score on Monday evening by the happy manner in which he presented the name of J. Howell Crosby in convention assembled, for renomination by acclamation to the position he has so well filled during the past year. Mr. Sampson's nominating speech will be found in another column of this issue. It was an exceedingly happy effort. In the first place Mr. Sampson has an attractive presence, and then his manner in public speech is exceedingly happy. He knows just what to say, and he knows just how to say it. The pleasant words that he spoke of J. Howell Crosby as he placed him in nomination, Arlington will not soon forget. Mr. Sampson, you may feel sure of a solid delegation from Arlington when your name comes to the front, as it must at no late day.

We see by our Long Island exchanges that the Hon. Edward N. Townsend, of Hempstead, New York, has been nominated by the democracy of the new county of Nassau, as its candidate for the Assembly at Albany. Through years of intimate acquaintance with Mr. Townsend we know him to be a man of rare ability and a hustler in politics. He comes from one of the first families in the Empire state. A man of generous views, and with any amount of push in his make-up he will make things lively at Albany. While all this may not be of especial interest to the readers of the Enterprise, so remote from the scene of action, still it is of interest to us who know Mr. Townsend to be the prince of good fellows, and a man worthy of the best his party can give him. Here's to the success of the Hon. E. N., who is a born hustler.

President Hadley in his inaugural at Yale the other day, didn't talk like a novice on educational matters. And President Faunce, of Brown University, shows himself up-to-date as an educator.

Representative Crosby's acceptance of the re-nomination tendered him on Monday evening, was an elegant effort in speech making. Mr. Crosby's manner in public address has the conversational style, the same which made Bayard Taylor one of the most effective speakers. Mr. Crosby is declamatory in nothing. He doesn't shake the Fourth-of-July in every man's face he happens to meet. But he knows how to make an effective and taking speech all the same. His address on Monday evening was an admirable one, in all that constitutes taste and delivery, and it was enthusiastically received by the convention. We gladly publish in another column what Mr. Crosby so well said.

A CARD.

W. G. Kimball herein extends his grateful thanks to all relatives and friends for the devoted attention given his late wife through her weary months of illness, and for the floral offerings at her funeral, and especially does he remember the kindness of the Everett friends in this hour of his grief.

REGISTRARS' NOTICE.

The Registrars of Voters of the Town of Arlington will meet in session in their room, in the Town House, for the purpose of registering voters, Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1899, from 7.30 o'clock to 9 o'clock p.m.; on Saturday, Oct. 28, 1899, from 12 o'clock m. to 10 o'clock p.m.; also at Union Hall, Arlington Heights, on Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1899, from 7.30 o'clock to 9 o'clock p.m.

Registration will cease Saturday, Oct. 28, 1899, at 10 o'clock in the evening, and after the close of registration no name will be entered on the list of voters except as provided by statute.

WILLIAM H. PATTER, Registrars of WILLIAM A. FITZPATRICK, Voters.
JOHN W. BAILEY,
B. DELMONT LOCKE,
October 11, 1899.

MARRIED.

CUMMINS—On Wednesday, Oct. 18, by Rev. John M. Mulcahy, Edward A. Cummins of Boston, and Ellen T. Gallagher.

BARRY—On Wednesday, Oct. 18, by Rev. J. M. Mulcahy, William Barry and Elizabeth Kelley both of Arlington.

DIED.

HURLEY—On Sunday, Oct. 15th, Mrs. Mary Hurley, aged 68 years.

KIMBALL—On Monday, Louise I. wife of William G. Kimball, aged 49 years.

TO LET.

Front Square Room, nicely furnished, in a private family, 363 Mass. avenue.

FOR SALE.

Old fashioned piano $15; chamber stove $2; address S., Arlington Heights.

ROOM to LET.

6-room house and bath with all the modern improvements situated on high land and only $15 per month; lots of land; a fine chance for someone. Inquire of W. Millett, Birtle park.

TO LET.

TO LET—Ashland Street, Arlington Heights, house 7 rooms and bath room, open plumbing and furnace; both town and well water supply; 18,000 feet of land; large and small fruits and shade trees. Apply to GEO. E. GILCHRIST, 106 High street, Boston.

DR. RING'S Sanatorium,

Arlington Heights, Mass.

Eight miles from Boston.

For Nervous and Chronic Diseases in both sexes (mental cases not received). Location high, healthful, restful and invigorating. Special attention given to Electro and Hydro therapeutics. Telephone 5-2 Arlington. Physicians, Allan Mott Ring, M.D., Arthur Hallam Ring, M.D., Barbara Taylor Ring, M.D. Illustrated booklet sent on application.

M. E. CALLAHAN Parlor of Billiards and Pool

Fowle Bld'g, Mass. Ave.,

I have opened a first-class billiard and pool room, and will run the same in a strictly up-to-date manner. Sandwiches of all kinds will be served, also a full line of tobacco and cigars. I respectfully solicit your patronage. sep30m

J. C. WAAGE, House, Sign, and Decorative Painting.

JOBBER PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO

28 Moore Place, Arlington

TELEPHONE, 149-2 ARLINGTON.

DAVID CLARK,

23 years in the hacking business, is still at the same business at 10 MILL STREET, ARLINGTON.

Rubber-tired carriages for funerals, weddings, and evening parties. Also a wagonette for pleasure parties. Tel. connection 12augly

Young Ladies' School of Shorthand.

No. 36 Bromfield Street, Boston, now open.

Thirteenth Year.

Address MISS N. S. HARDY for prospectus.

E. G. WILFORD

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

DEPOT CARRIAGE

EIGHT RIDES ONE DOLLAR.

L. C. TYLER,

Dealer in

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

Agent for the celebrated Queen Quality Shoes for ladies and the Crawford Shoe for men, the Misses' and children's school shoe not forgotten. Gent's furnishing goods, gloves, mittens, trunks and bags. 822 MASS. AV.

WM. ADDISON GREENE, M. D.

688 Mass. Ave., Arlington.

GRADUATE OF DARTMOUTH '99 HARVARD POST GRADUATE '07. OFFICE HOURS: 9-10 A.M., 2-4 P.M., 6-8 P.M.

George A. Law,

Hack and Livery Stable,

Mass Ave., Arlington

Having practically rebuilt the inside of my stable, and added ten new stalls, I am now prepared to take new boarders. I secure first class board and right prices. Teams sent and called for.

JOB PRINTING OF ALL KINDS AT LOW RATES AT THIS OFFICE

CHAS. GOTT Carriage Builder,

450 Mass. Ave.,

ARLINGTON, MASS

Jobbing in all branches.

Fine Painting a Specialty.

MARK SULLIVAN,

PRACTICAL

HORSE SHOER.

HAND-MADE STEEL SHOES

A SPECIALTY.

Mill Street Shoeing Forge,

ARLINGTON.

H. L. Frost & Co.

POST-OFFICE BLOCK.

See our show of Maiden Hair Ferns for the next two weeks.

Telephone number at store 141-2 at Greenhouses, 21-4.

STOP

your hair from falling out by using Whittemore's Quinine Hair Tonic, Fully warranted.

F. R. DANIELS

606 Mass. Avenue,

Arlington.

All the leading styles in collars, cuffs, ties, pins, etc.

The Bendix Orchestra.

William Bendix Director.

High-class music furnished for Dances, Germans, Cotillions, etc. A limited number of pupils accepted for piano, violin, clarinet and guitar. Office and Studio, 2 Park terrace. ARLINGTON.

Fish!

All Kinds

I shall keep all kinds of Fresh and Salt Fish always on hand at prices very moderate. Your orders will receive our prompt attention and delivered. Also clams, oysters and lobsters.

J. FRED McLEOD,

602 Mass. avenue, near R. R. Crossing. 31dec3m

Peirce & Winn Co

Dealer in

Coals, Wood, Hay, Straw

Grain, Lime, Cement, Plaster, Hair, Fertilizers, Sand, Drain and Sewer Pipes, etc.

Teaming, Pile-driving, Flour, New England Gas and Coke Co's Coke. Arlington, Arlington Heights, and Lexington. Post-office Box B. Arlington. Telephone, 6-2 Arlington.

Boston and Maine R. K., Southern Division

OCT. 2, 1899.

TRAINS TO BOSTON.

Arlington Heights—5.30, 6.05, 6.35, 7.04, 7.34, 8.04, 8.30, 8.53, 10.07, 11.14, A.M. 12.18, 1.01, 2.18, 3.54, 4.23, 4.46, 5.19, 6.47, 8.18, 9.18, 10.18 P.M. Sunday, 9.24, A.M. 12.08, 2.25, 3.11, 4.30, 5.15, 8.25.
Brattle—4.47, 6.08, 6.38, 7.06, 8.06, 8.56, 10.09, 11.10, A.M. 12.27, 1.03, 2.30, 3.56, 4.48, 5.21, 6.51, 8.20, 9.20, 10.20, P.M. Sundays, 9.27, A.M. 1.00, 2.25, 3.14, 4.35, 6.15, 8.28, P.M.
Arlington—5.30, 6.12, 6.42, 7.07, 7.12, 7.30, 7.42, 8.01, 8.09, 8.17, 8.40, 9.00, 10.12, 11.24, A.M. 12.23, 1.06, 2.28, 3.50, 4.28, 4.51, 5.24, 5.46, 6.20, 6.53, 6.56, 7.15, 8.23, 9.23, 10.23, P.M. Sundays, 9.30, A.M. 1.03, 2.28, 3.18, 4.41, 6.21, 8.31, P.M. Lake Street—5.53, 6.15, 6.45, 7.15, 7.45, 8.03, 8.20, 9.03, 10.15, 11.21, A.M. 12.32, 1.08, 2.25, 4.01, 5.26, 5.49, 6.23, 7.00, 7.18, 8.25, 9.25, 10.25, P.M. Sundays, 9.33, A.M. 1.06, 2.31, 3.31, 4.44, 6.24, 8.34, P.M.
*Express.

TRAINS FROM BOSTON.

Arlington Heights—6.25, 7.17, 8.17, 9.17, 10.17, 11.17, A.M. 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.17, 4.47, 5.17, 5.47, 6.17, 7.10, 7.50, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, P.M. Sunday, 9.15, A.M. 12.50, 2.00, 4.30, 6.00, 7.15, 9.45, P.M.
Brattle—6.25, 7.17, 8.17, 9.17, 11.17, A.M. 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.17, 4.47, 5.17, 5.47, 6.17, 7.10, 7.50, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, P.M. Sunday, 9.15, A.M. 12.50, 2.00, 4.30, 6.00, 7.15, 9.45, P.M.
Arlington—6.25, 6.42, 7.01, 7.17, 7.31, 7.46, 8.17, 9.17, 10.17, 11.17, A.M. 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.17, 4.47, 5.17, 5.47, 6.17, 7.10, 7.50, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, P.M. Sunday, 9.15, A.M. 12.50, 2.00, 4.30, 6.00, 7.15, 9.45, P.M.
Lake Street—6.25, 7.01, 8.17, 9.17, 10.17, 11.17, A.M. 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.17, 4.47, 5.17, 5.47, 6.17, 7.10, 7.50, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, P.M. Sunday, 9.15, A.M. 12.50, 2.00, 4.30, 6.00, 7.15, 9.45, P.M.
*Express.

D. J. FLANDERS, General Pass and Ticket Agent.

O. L. Fern & Co,

Importers and Dealers in

Foreign and Domestic Liquors

Sole agents for the celebrated Hotel Brunswick, Key West and Don Daviso brands of cigars. A box of Brunswick cigars for the ladies' husbands, or friends that smoke, at wholesale prices. Family trade a specialty.

95 Union and 166 Blackstone St

BOSTON

Paine

Furniture Company

48 Canal Street, Boston

T. M. CANNIFF, Hairdresser,

943 Mass. ave., Arlington

J. H. HARTWELL & SON.,

Undertakers and Embalmers.

Medford st.

EGBERT E. STACPOLE,

TEACHER OF

BANJO, MANDOLIN AND GUITAR.

Correct Instruments carefully selected for pupils without extra charge.

40 Mystic Street, - Arlington, Mass.

ALEX H. SEAVER,

REAL ESTATE & MORTGAGES.

2 MYSTIC STREET

No Glasses at all

Is certainly better than to have the wrong kind; for by using those which are unsuitable, new errors of refraction are caused. But with the right glasses, original, progressive or acquired errors are corrected and pass away as if they had never existed. I take great pains with my corrections and my fittings, and make no charge for thorough examinations.

FRED W. DERBY,

Refraction Optician,

458 Massachusetts Avenue

ARLINGTON NEWS.

Mrs. E. M. Cobb and daughter, of Mass. avenue, have returned from South Lyndeborough, N. H., where they have spent the summer.

Mr. Langen, the tonsorial man, is to spend a week or more with friends in Leominster, N. H. He takes along with him his gun and dog for partridges and other birds.

Monday morning, Oct. 16th, in St. Malachy's church an anniversary High mass of requiem, was celebrated by Rev. P. M. O'Connor, for the late Mrs. Mary Butler, mother of Thomas and Edward Butler, of Park avenue.

Concrete footings are being put under the annex of St. Malachy's church. Michael Kelley is the contractor.

Chief Harriman is back from the Maine woods after a week's shoot. Mr. Harriman found game in abundance, and he bagged his part of it. A deer was one of his shots with any number of birds.

Will venture that that clear specimen of anthracite coal which the Rev. Dr. Watson used on last Sunday morning in illustrating in part his sermon to the children, came from Peirce, Winn & Co's. coal yard.

Mrs. L. E. Stickney, who was thrown last week from her carriage is improving, though not entirely recovered from her bruises.

The traders' association is to hold an important meeting the first of the week.

The Rosary decorations now being held each evening this month in St. Malachy's church, are testing the capacity of the church to its utmost.

Division 23 is making grand preparations for the grand ball on Thanksgiving eve.

A new concrete walk has been laid from the house of the Sisters of St. Joseph to the end of the Parochial school property. It is a grand improvement.

The excavation is progressing finely at St. Malachy's church and before long the change at this spot will be marked.

Mr. John O'Connell of Lewis avenue, who was badly hurt in the electric accident on Charlestown bridge, is slowly recovering. He was thrown against the door and fractured three ribs.

Many of our Arlington people took in the symphony concert given on Thursday evening in Cambridge.

The Arlington Golf club is here to stay. Thirty acres of ground on Pleasant street have been leased. There will be a business meeting of those interested in this game on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Robert Dinsmore of Summer street is ill at his home. Mr. Dinsmore has been so constantly at his work without even a day off, that nature has given way and demanded of him a rest. We hope with the many friends of Mr. Dinsmore that he will soon recover from his present illness.

The meeting that was held in the vestry of the Congregational church on Monday evening was an important one. Few rentals came in for a share of the discussion.

The Menotomy R. A. Chapter of Masons was visited on Monday evening by Aubrey W. Dunton, district deputy, G.H.P. for the 8th district. The most excellent degree was received by four candidates. Hardy furnished the spread.

The Hon. J. Howell Crosby and Mrs. Crosby were among the honored ones in Boston on Dewey day.

Miss Ethel Homer has been in Washington during the present week in attendance upon the Unitarian convention.

Mrs. Jones, whose home is at 664 Mass. avenue, is to give a series of whist parties in Grand Army hall.

The first meeting of the Arlington Improvement association for the coming season will be held on Monday evening.

On Sunday evening at the Congregational church the subject of "An Old Time Missionary" will be discussed by the Christian Endeavor society.

On Friday of next week the public schools will be closed that the teachers may attend the convention of teachers in Boston.

Dr. and Mrs. Dennett are at home from their outing in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. George I. Doe are in Wilton, N. H.

The meeting of the Y.P.S.C.E. held in the vestry of the Congregational church last Sunday evening was especially enjoyable. There was quartette singing by Grace Lockhart, Mabel L. Bennett, George M. Fowle and Warren C. Taylor.

Let us hear something about the oak that "monarch of the wood," as well as so much of "The Maples."

Mrs. Alfred H. Knowles and daughter are in Washington, D.C.

Sunday, Oct. 22, 21st Sunday after Trinity.

Morning and evening service at St. John's church as usual; morning at 10.30, evening at 7.30.

Girls' Friendly society will meet at St. John's parish house, Maple street, Wednesday evening at 7.45 p.m.

The ladies of St. John's congregation meet on Friday afternoons at 2.30. Contributions for their fair, to be held in the Town hall, Dec. 12, are solicited.

Rev. James Yeames is recovering from a sharp and severe illness and hopes soon to be among his friends and at his work again.

The Middlesex County Teachers' Association will hold its annual meeting in Tremont Temple, Boston, on Friday of next week. The teachers in the Arlington public schools will attend.

On Tuesday the High school foot-ball team played with the Cambridge High and Latin school team at Charles River Park. The Cambridge boys scored 42 to Arlington 0. The Arlington High school team evidently needs more practice.

The Arlington High school team will play Winchester on Thursday of next week.

Mr. Rev. and Mrs. Harry Fay Fister have their second at home on Wednesday evening of next week.

Senator Reynolds of Marblehead entertained members of the committee on banking of the House on Thursday. Representative J. Howell Crosby was a guest and reports a most enjoyable time.

The Arlington Young Men's Club, a club formed by some of our leading young men for social improvement, has been organized, and Rev. James Yeames, who is always foremost in every good cause, has kindly given the use of St. John's parish house in which to hold meetings until the time comes to build a club house. The president is Mr. William D. Elwell; vice-pres. Mr. Jerre Coleman, Jr.; secretary, H. M. Brooks; treasurer, Chester Peck. Success to the new organization.

Perham's new time-table cards are out. Procure one.

The High School Clarion will appear about Wednesday. Mr. Russell declines taking the editorship for the next numbers, and we are sorry for Mr. Russell makes a capital editor.

On Sunday morning Mrs. Mary Hurley of Mass. avenue died at her home opposite Schouler court, age of deceased nearly 60 years. Funeral ceremonies were held on Tuesday morning in St. Malachy's church, the Rev. A. J. Fitzgerald officiated.

William McNeil has moved into the house made vacant by Mr. Howard Hawkins.

The strains of the piano and cornet which were wafted into our windows Monday evening, from the Finance block, were all right.

Mr. W. K. Hutchinson has put in a new cash register, and each one is given a slip with the amount of purchase. The machine cost $300.

The members of Hose 3 were given a clam supper on Tuesday evening by their captain, A. D. Hill. The boys had a good time all round—thanks to Captain Hill.

Regular meeting of Camp 45 S. of V., Tuesday evening. All members are earnestly requested to attend this meeting as there will be business of great importance.

The phenomenal volume of trade of the Pleasant street market speaks well for Mr. J. O. Holt's push and hustle. It is the most attractive and cleanest market in town.

Mr. W. K. Hutchinson, the grocer, was a special guest at the Deerfoot farm at Southboro, this week. Mr. Burnett having invited all who use his products to enjoy his hospitality. Mr. Hutchinson enjoyed the day heartily.

ARLINGTON HOMING CLUB.

District of New England Federation has just closed one of the most successful flying seasons since its organization. The flying of homing pigeons is one of the most enjoyable pastimes for genuine sport that can be indulged in, especially for those who take an interest in the little messenger carriers. We have at the present time in the town of Arlington some of the speediest flying pigeons in New England, as our records go to prove. Eighty-five young birds from four to six months old were liberated at 6 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 10, at North Adams, 100 miles air line, birds trapped at Arlington lofts at 9.21; average speed 887 yards and 9 feet per minute. The 150 mile race was flown from Schenectady, N. Y.; on Sept. 17, birds liberated at 6 a. m., trapped at Arlington lofts at 11.06. Two hundred mile race was flown from Little Folks, N. Y., Sept. 24; birds liberated at 6.11, trapped at 4.13. Birds were delayed by bad weather through the state of New York.

Mr. J. D. Murray of 27 Mill street is at the head of the Federation.

ARLINGTON BOAT CLUB.

The whist tournament of the Arlington boat club on Saturday evening had ten tables with full hands. Harold N. Willis and Winthrop Pattee won first prizes, each receiving a unique silver mounted shaving brush. H. A. Gorham and Charles G. Brockway won 2d prize, a silver match box. The games were followed by a spread.

The billiard and pool tables have been refitted.

Thursday evening was gentlemen's night. Something more than a hundred were present. F. O. Howell, the magician, entertained the company.

Steamed clams will be served to members on Saturday evening, Oct. 21st. It is earnestly hoped there will be a large crowd present.

Wood Brothers the well known expressmen are up and at it all the while. One can never catch them napping it in.

To Cure Constipation in One Week
To Purify the Blood in One Week
To Strengthen Nerves in One Week
To Cure Sick Headache in One Day

Take Cleveland's Celery Compound 25c. If it fails to cure, your money will be refunded. H. A. Perham, druggist the day time, and you will usually find them wide awake well into the night ready to receive orders for the next day. These live brothers are now giving particular attention to the moving of goods and household furniture. They will move anything from a piano to a doll's chair without a scratch. Just give Wood Brothers the usual "hello" through telephone 145-7 and they will answer for themselves.

The Social Alliance of the Unitarian parish had an enjoyable meeting in the parlors of the church on Monday afternoon. There were some 40 members of the Alliance present. A paper was read by Miss Agnes Damon on "The Progress of Religion in the Nineteenth Century," after which a social hour was had. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Rice. Mrs. C. A. Dennett is president of this society and Mrs. W. H. N. Francis vice-president, who in the absence of the president on Monday occupied the chair.

An enjoyable whist party was given in G.A.R. hall by the Arlington Whist and Cycle club on Tuesday evening. There were 22 tables. The following prizes were awarded: 1st ladies' a valuable clock, Mrs. Thomas Colby; 2d ladies', pair opera glasses, Miss Hoyt; 3d ladies', brush and comb tray, Miss Tyler; 1st gent's, camera, Fred Sanford; 2d, umbrella, Mr. Storey; 3d, set of gold cuff links, Mr. O'Brien. As a prelude to the games, there was a Moseley concert given on the phonograph.

The Rev. Mr. Bushnell is a good deal enthusiastic over the inaugural ceremonies of President Hadley of Yale as he witnessed them on Wednesday. The occasion drew together one of the most distinguished body of educators to be found the world over. The New England and western colleges were largely represented. The Rev. Mr. Bushnell has the right to take much pride in the distinguished name of his Alma mater. Yale has sent out an alumni, not surpassed in point of literary acquirement and culture by any other college. President Hadley begins his administration under the most favorable auspices.

On Monday morning Mrs. Louise, wife of Mr. W. G. Kimball, after a lingering illness died at her home, 1003 Mass. avenue, aged 40 years. The funeral ceremonies of the deceased were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Fister, pastor of the Universalist church, at the house on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery. Mrs. Kimball was a devoted, loving wife, whose interest centered in her home. She had gathered about her many friends who will deeply mourn her loss. Mr. Kimball, the afflicted husband, will receive the sympathy of all in this hour of his sad bereavement. There were beautiful flowers—three pillows, crescent, wreaths, bunches of white pinks, bunches of white roses and chrysanthemums, showing the deep love her friends had for her.

A PLEASANT WORD.

The Arlington Enterprise commenced its second volume last Saturday. We congratulate Brother Gray on his success, for the Enterprise is one of the newest up-to-date local papers in Middlesex county. Good luck to it.—Cambridge Times.

The vestries of the Unitarian church were filled on Friday evening, Oct. 13th, by the members of the Sunday school, and some of the older people of the parish, who came together for the first sociable of the season. Some thirty tables were arranged for games, and prizes were given at the close. Refreshments were served later. Boys and girls of the school acting as waiters. The occasion gave opportunity for making acquaintance with the new superintendent of the Sunday school, Mr. F. G. Sutcliffe. The large gathering was admirably entertained and cared for by the committee in charge, consisting of Miss Damon, Miss Annie Stevens, Miss Grace Gage, Mr. W. G. Rice and Master Chester Thorpe.

We had a pleasant little visit the other day with Mr. Rodney I. Hardy at his delightful home, 54 Lake street. Mr. Hardy has been a resident of Arlington for thirty years, and all this while has been actively interested in every enterprise having for its object the good of the town. A man of positive convictions, he has uniformly dared express himself upon all public questions. Mr. Hardy never "beats about the bush." He calls things by their right name without making any apology for it. And yet he is one of the most agreeable men to meet. Familiar with all the current questions of the day, Mr. Hardy is necessarily instructive in his conversation. He has one of the most attractive homes in Arlington, with immediate surroundings that are in keeping with a cultivated taste. The hour spent with him was an enjoyable one.

A pretty and brilliant wedding took place in St. Malachy's church on Wednesday morning. The contracting parties were John A. Cummins of Appleton street, Boston, and Nellie T. Gallagher of Bow street, Arlington. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. J. M. Mulcahy. The ceremonies were followed by High Mass. Mass was rendered by a quartette of the Sacred Heart church choir of East Boston. The bride was tastefully and elegantly gowned in white satin, wearing a tulle veil and carrying a white-covered prayer book, and rosary beads. The bridesmaid was Abby Gallagher, sister of the bride. She was gowned in white over pink, carrying a choice bouquet of flowers. Best man was Bernard Joyce, of Boston. The church was filled with friends of the bride and groom. Wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's father, John Gallagher, Bow street. The newly married couple left on Wednesday evening for their bridal tour, by the Fall River boat. They are to visit New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Their home is to be in Brookline. The Enterprise extends to Mr. and Mrs. Cummings heartiest congratulations.

At the First Parish (Unitarian) church last Sunday morning, Rev. Frederic Gill, after reading from Esther 5 and 6, spoke very briefly concerning the Dewey celebration, which, he said, is a tribute to a man. Dewey has shown himself to be not only a great sea captain, but a great man. He did his duty promptly and efficiently, and made no fuss about it. Especially since landing on our shores, he has, by his simplicity and modesty, impressed us all with his simple manliness. Had he, during these few weeks, boasted of his deeds, or had his head been turned by the honor showered upon him, the warmth of his reception by the people would have been checked and chilled. In honoring him, we honor a great admiral and a true man, and feel that the man in him is more than the admiral; and to say that, is to say the best thing that could be said of him.

"WHY IS IT?"

EDITOR OF ENTERPRISE:—I was deeply interested in reading your editorial in last week's issue, headed as above. Now while I have been a subscriber to the Advocate for a quarter of a century, and expect to continue to be while I live, and realize that it has ever stood firm for everything that makes for the elevation of the town in morals, education and religion, yet I believe Arlington has grown to be large enough to support two weekly newspapers, and will be benefited thereby. I welcome the Enterprise as an honorable competitor of the Advocate, believing it also, to be in every way worthy of the confidence and esteem of our citizens. I am a firm believer in reasonable competition, in the newspaper realm, as well as in all lines of business. If the welfare of the town is promoted by an additional live and clean paper like yours (and I believe it is) it seems to me that your request for an equal share of its public patronage is very "fair and just" and doubtless the town will so regard it. Arlington, Oct. 16, 1899. H.

The concert given in the Universalist church on Thursday evening by Cambridge talent brought together the music loving people of Arlington. The programme which had been arranged with much care was delightfully rendered. Those taking part in the rendition of the programme were the following artists: Dr. Clarke, bass; Frank A. Kennedy, violinist; Gerald Lambert, soprano; Beulah Nay, reader; George Mendall Taylor, organist. The opening was an organ solo which was a brilliant introductory to the parts which followed. Little Annie May Whitten, a girl of not more than seven years, was enthusiastically encored on her singing the selection entitled "On the Zuyder Zee." May answered the applause in a taking way. Mr. Babcock, who was down for the basso, was not able to be present by reason of a severe cold, so that Dr. Clarke most acceptably filled his place. Dr. Clarke sang "The Three Fishers" with all that spirit and finish which begets enthusiasm. Dr. Clarke answered the hearty encore given him with one of his choicest selections.

The recitation "How Dot Heard the Messiah," by Beulah Nay, showed much elocutionary training. The rendering of the organ solos, "Variations on a Familiar Theme," "Wedding March" and "Gavotte" was a marked feature of the evening. "I've Waited Long for You," by Annie May Whitten, was admirably done. "The Lost Chord" by Dr. Clarke took the audience by storm. "Angel Lord" by Gerald Lambert, a lad of six or seven, was one of the star pieces of the evening. "What is a Hedge-Hog?" a humorous selection was effectively recited by Beulah Nay. The Violin solos, Polish dance and Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana were rendered in the most artistic way. "A Red, Red Rose" was prettily sung by Master Lambert. The duet "Robin Ruff" by Dr. Clarke and Master Lambert was the crowning performance of the evening, and it called forth the tumultuous applause of the audience.

The entertainment was a delightful success, and everyone present enjoyed it. We hope our Universalist friends will soon arrange for others of the same pleasing make-up. We say that the entertainment was a success and so it was, but we should have enjoyed it much more had it not been for those five ugly hats, and those five uglier feathers immediately in front of us. If ladies will insist on wearing their much feathered hats in the audience room, then they should be willing to occupy a rear seat, but then a back seat we suppose would not advertise their hats. It is provoking to be compelled to sit in an audience room with the platform and actors shut out from one's view. Please take off your hats ladies, the next time you are present at a public entertainment in Arlington.

JOHN D. ROSIE,
Respectfully announces that he is prepared to make

Suitings Overcoatings and Trouserings

in the latest styles and fabrics, both foreign and domestic, at reasonable prices.

Also particular attention given to ladies' work
637 Mass. Avenue, P. O. Arcade.

W. A. HODGES,
POST-OFFICE BUILDING,
ARLINGTON.
Newspapers, Periodicals

Full line of Cigars and Tobacco,
Stationery, Confectionery.
Open evenings till 8 o'clock; Saturday evening till 10 o'clock.

If you wish your expressing done on time and trunks taken to and from the depots, try

WELCH'S
Arlington Express,
W. E. BROWN, Prop.

Boston Office: 75 Kilby St., 14 Devonshire St., 139 Kingston St. Order Box, Faneuil Hall Market.
Arlington Order Boxes: Cushing's Store at Heights, Town Hall and corner Beacon St.
FURNITURE MOVING.
Residence, 955 Mass. Avenue, Arlington.

Johnson's Arlington Express.

J. H. EDWARD'S Prop.

Main Office, Monument View House
Opp. Soldiers' Monument.

Order Box, Faneuil Hall Market

Raggage checked at all depots and steamboat wharves or transferred to destination.

If you have any Expressing, Piano or Furniture Moving to do please give us a call.

We have the largest business and can give better results than any other express in Arlington. Telephone, 122-3 Arlington
Two Trips Daily. First Team Due at 1 p.m.

PICTURE FRAMES.

CRAYONS.

Sitchfield Studio
655 Mass. Ave.,
Arlington, Mass.

PHOTOS.

WATER COLORS.

H. B. JOHNSON,

Steam and Hot Water Heating,

Greehouse Contractor, Steam Pump Repairer, etc.

PIPE AND FITTINGS FOR SALE
AT BOSTON PRICES.

BROADWAY AND WINTER STS.,
ARLINGTON.

Boilers Re-tubed. Artesian Wells. Wind Mills. Roofing.

In all work contracted for the latest devices and most approved appliances are used and personal attention given to every job. Estimates furnished on contracts of any amount and satisfaction guaranteed.
Sept 30, 19

Bello Jones

"What are you doing with all those bundles. Been shopping?"

No! My wife asked me to bring home Hardy's Milk Bread, she says it's the finest made, so I am doing what she asked.

He will also furnish you with Strawberry Ice Cream made from the natural fruit

N. J. Hardy, 657 Mass. ave.

Pleasant Street Market Choicest of Meats and Vegetables.

Finest of Canned Goods

Butter, Cheese, Eggs and Cream

JAMES O. HOLT, Grocer.

A committee on the organ fund in which the Congregationalist church and society are interested, and of which the Rev. Mr. Bushnell is chairman, met on Thursday evening at the pastor's study to devise ways and means whereby a new organ may be purchased.

Mr. R. W. L. Baron and father, Mr. Joseph F. LeBaron, are at Post Mills, Vt., for a hunting trip. For a long time Mr. LeBaron has tried to make a break from his business, but it rushed in upon him so fast that it was difficult to get away even now.

The Rev. Mr. Bushnell read on Tuesday afternoon, an interesting paper before the Ladies' missionary society in the parlors of the Congregational church.

On Wednesday evening William Barry and Eliza Kelley were united in marriage at the Parsonage by the Rev. John M. Mulcahy. Mr. and Mrs. Barry are to make their home at Arlington Heights.

ROOM TO LET.

Front room, furnished or unfurnished, at 677 Mass. Avenue, opposite public library.

Dr. G. W. Yale,

DENTIST,

At parlors, 14-16 Post-office Building,
ARLINGTON.

Open daily, also Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings.

A. L. BACON,

Mason and Contractor.

All Kinds of

Jobbing, Whitening, Fire Places and Boiler Settings.

LOCKER 58 MYSTIC. Lock Box 45, Arlington
Telephone 133-3.

Order Box at Peirce & Winn Co.

RESIDENCE, COR. MYSTIC STREET AND
DAVIS AVENUE.

Canned Goods

We shall offer this year to our trade some of the very finest canned goods packed. Samples gladly shown and prices quoted by our salesmen.

J. O. Holt, Grocer,

14 Pleasant Street.

Belmont Crystal Spring Water
BELMONT, MASS.
D. L. TAPPAN, Prop. 269 Mass. Ave., Arlington
TELEPHONE CONNECTION.
C. A. CUSHING, Arlington Heights, WILLIAM WHYTALE, Finance Block, VERXA & VERXA, Post-office Block
Sell Belmont Crystal Spring Water.
 Orders by mail or telephone will receive prompt attention. Orders taken at H. J. Perham's Drug Store, P. O. Block, will receive immediate attention.

J. W. HARRINGTON,
 SUCCESSOR TO GEO. D. TUFTS.
 Business established about 1888.

Practical House, Sign, and Decorative Painter.
 All kinds of hard and soft woods finished in the latest and most improved manner. Kalsomining or tinting in water colors. Graining, glazing and Paper Hanging. Local agents for one of the largest wall paper houses in Boston. Drop me a card and I will call with samples. All sizes of glass on hand or procured at short notice. Sign writing a specialty. Personal supervision given to all work and satisfaction guaranteed. I respectfully solicit a further share of your patronage.

Shop, 450 Mass. ave., opp. Medford st. Residence, 51 Lewis Ave.

KNOWLES & MARDEN,
PLUMBERS.
 Furnaces, Ranges, Steam.
 Hot Water, and Gas Fixtures, and Kitchen Furnishings
483 MASS. AVENUE.

SOMETHING SWEET AND TEMPTING
 can be found at all times in our choice baking of ornamental and layer cakes, fancy cakes, loaf and fancy cakes, fine pastry, delicious breads, rolls, biscuits and bake-stuffs of all kinds, that will suit the most epicurean palate. Don't waste time and money baking when we will serve you with goods baked from the highest grade materials at low prices.

ALEXANDER BEATON, Contractor and Builder,
 79 Hibbert street, Arlington Heights.

GUY E. DAME, Registered Pharmacist,
 59 Park avenue, cor. Mass. avenue, ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.
 Telephone, 3-2 Arlington. Duncan Block
 Try my Headache Powders, They are a sure cure

A. BOWMAN & CO.
 Ladies' and Gent's
TAILORS,
 487 Mass. ave., Arlington.
 ALTERING, CLEANING, DYEING, PRESSING.

We Lead, Others Follow!
 Arlington Sea Food Market.
311 Broadway, Arlington.
 Opposite the Soldiers' Monument.
 Cleanest Market in the state.
 Our Fish, Oysters, Clams, and Lobsters, are fresh from the waters.
 Give us a call and see for yourself.
GEORGE W. RUSSELL. S. M. TELE
 Telephone 122-5.

WOOD BROS. EXPRESS
 Will move you out or move you in, just which way you happen to be going, and guarantee you just as good a job as if you were always moving.
 Piano and Furniture Moving.
 We also have an express that runs too and from Boston daily, that will call for your parcels and deliver them promptly.
 Boston Offices—36 Court St., 48 Chatham St.; order box, Faneuil Hall Sq.
 Arlington Offices—Cushing's Store at Heights, Town Hall, corner Henderson St.
 Residence at 677 Mass. avenue.

J. W. RONCO,
Practical Hair Cutter.
 Children's Hair Cutting is our specialty.
 P. O. Building, 637 Mass. ave., opp. Post-office.
 ARLINGTON, MASS.

W. G. KIMBALL,
Contractor and Builder,
 Shop, 1003 Mass. ave.

E. PRICE, Blacksmith and Wheelwright,
 Horseshoeing and Jobbing promptly attended to.
 Carriage and Sign Painting.
 Belmont, Mass

An Expensive Knife.
 An old man went into a cigar store where pocketknives are on sale. He had a fancy for one of the knives, but thought the price, 75 cents, too high. After a parley with the proprietor he concluded to wager 75 cents against the knife and play a game of poker. He lost the money and then that much again. He continued to lose until he lost $121, all the money he had, but the proprietor made him a present of the knife.

In the afternoon he returned, saying he was dissatisfied with the knife. He had paid $121 for it, but would willingly exchange it for a $1 article. The dealer kindly made the exchange, and the man went his way rejoicing. He had no money to trouble him, but he had a knife, and, after all, a knife is a good thing to have.—Arizona Republican.

Significant Signs.
 It has been insinuated that the Appleton-O'Bryenne wedding is off. If you want to know, go past the Appleton house. The sound of a half dozen sewing machines can be heard there from daybreak till late at night. When a marriage is given up for good, the sewing machine is idle, except when patches must be put on the old man's underclothes.—Atchison Globe.

The Druggist's Work.
 There is a druggist in one of the suburban districts who advises: "The doctor prescribes; we execute." Such advertising cannot fail to appeal to those who desire to be executed.—Boston Journal.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.
 The barrel social for the children of the Arlington Heights Baptist church which was held in Crescent Hall on Tuesday evening, afforded old and young alike, and delightful time. The name of the social comes from the fact, that small miniature barrels were secured for the children to be filled from solicitation among friends with money for the church. The barrels were collected at the very opening of the entertainment, but the amount therein contained was not made known until after the rendition of the following programme. Mr. Jason A. Swadkins, the presiding officer of the occasion, called the meeting to order at 7:30 o'clock when prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Brigham of Cambridge, then came a piano solo by Miss Jukes, after which was a recitation by Helen Sylvester, a little girl from Woburn, six years of age. Her elocutionary way of rendition was encored over and over again. Little Helen proved herself a professional of remarkable power for one of her years. The reading by Flossie Brigham was rendered in excellent taste. Then followed singing by Miss Campbell, reading by Miss Cameron, recitation by Helen Sylvester, a duet by Miss Daisy Swadkins and Miss Clara Cann, singing by a female quartette, recitation by Franklin Wile, reading again by Flossie Brigham, another reading by Miss Cameron, singing again by the quartette, and then the contents of the barrels were reported, and two Bibles presented to the two who had been successful in securing the largest amount of barrel money. The fortunate recipients of the Bibles were Miss Greenwood, of Lexington, and Guy Kimball, of Mass. avenue. The amount of money collected in this unique way was something like forty dollars. It seems almost impudicous to make individual mention of anywhere, all did so well; yet we must say a word of Miss Flossie Brigham who recited so admirably well that selection of twenty minutes without a hitch or a break. Miss Bridgeham has a voice exceedingly well trained for elocutionary work. Miss Cameron from Boston, who gave several readings, is a professional. Her part of the programme was especially enjoyable. Franklin Wile, a boy of 5 or 6 years, spoke like a little man. The duet by Miss Swadkins and Miss Cann was encored to the echo. The singing by Miss Campbell and the quartette were pleasant features of the evening. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Mr. Lorimer, gave an illustrated black-board talk which resulted in individual promises on the part of the audience, to earnestly attempt to raise six hundred dollars for the benefit of the church. Light refreshments were served. It is very evident that the Lord is on the side of the Arlington Heights Baptist church. Absolutely united in purpose and effort, everything succeeds which the church undertakes. The new church building is well under way and ere many weeks, will be ready for occupancy. The Arlington Heights Baptist church deserves the encouragement and aid of all Arlington, and so it is that we suggest to the Reverends Dr. Watson Bushnell, Fister, Gill, Yeames, Stembbridge and Father Mulcahy, that they early set apart the offerings of one Sunday's giving to and for the Arlington Heights Baptist church. And beside, whoever in our town is disposed to aid a worthy enterprise, let him send a dollar to the Rev. Mr. Lorimer, pastor of the church. The Arlington Heights Baptist church is fortunate in its earnest, brave, Christian women. They are constantly devising means whereby substantial aid shall come to their little church on the hill. In this connection we make prominent mention of Mrs. Wamaker who did so much for the success of the barrel social. Mrs. Wamaker is a little body, but things have to move when she gets behind them as a propelling power. The truth is, all the women of the Arlington Heights Baptist church are prominent factors in the success of the church. We enjoyed Tuesday evening so thoroughly, that we shall not be likely to refuse any invitation coming to us from the Baptist sisters of the Heights.

A delightful service especially for the children, was held in the Baptist church on Sunday morning. The singing and the Scripture reading were all in keeping with the hour. The Rev. Dr. Watson, pastor of the church, spoke to the children from two texts of Scripture, namely: "I am the light of the world," and "Ye are the light of the world." His sermon was made particularly interesting to the children, inasmuch as he illustrated it as he went along. For instance he showed how all material objects give off light and heat, only as they take in light and heat from the sun. He burned a match so that he might make plainer the fact that the world gave out only what it had previously taken in. With a bit of anthracite coal, and with specimens of autumn leaves, and with the lighted candle, he illustrated his two texts so that the children well understood the lesson. The little folks could not well help seeing that we have light from the direct source of all light and then we have reflected light, so that "I am the light of the world," and "Ye are the light of the world," was made intelligible to young and old alike. We believe in the children's sermon. The speaker may be sure that when he gains the attention of the youngest, he is sure to have and hold the attention of the oldest.

The Moonshine party given on Tuesday evening by the Sunshine club at the residence of Mrs. W. O. Partridge, of Claremont avenue, was one of those enjoyable events, which one does not soon forget. While the moon was kindly giving forth its silvery light outside, there were eight tables of progressive whist inside. As the gentlemen with their fair partners played their best cards, they repeated those words of Bryant which read thus: "That silent moon, that silent moon careering now through cloudless skies. Ah, who shall tell what varied scenes have passed beneath her placid eye, since first to light this wayward earth, she walked in tranquil beauty forth." It must not be forgotten that the Sunshine club is not without sentiment. The games at the several tables were contested from first to last. The prizes were awarded as follows: First ladies' prize—a silver nut-pick, went to Mrs. John T. White; second prize, a silver bracelet, was won by Mrs. C. T. Parson. First gentlemen's prize—a hat brush, was won by Mr. T. A. Jernegan; second prize, a pocket-book, went to Mr. E. I. Downing. Refreshments were served by the Misses Alice White, Elnor Bridgman, Susie Haskell and Dora Parsons. This quartette of young ladies were prettily gowned in muslin, while the table was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves festooned in garlands from the ceiling, and there were beside, china-asters. The evening was a delightful one to the many friends present.

Mrs. Thomas Pierce who resides on Palmer street, is visiting her daughter-in-law Mrs. Leander Peirce at her home 178 Oakland avenue. Mrs. Peirce at the age of 85 years, is unusually well. We pleasantly remember Mrs. Peirce when we were "the school-master abroad" nearly forty years ago, on what was then High street. We shall never forget the active interest she and her sister, the late Mrs. S. F. Woodbridge, took in finding us a boarding place in the district where we taught. And they succeeded, too, as women usually do in whatever they undertake, and so for three years we had a home in the Cutter school district, from which we could see Bunker Hill monument, and the dome of the State House by day, and by night we could lie in our bed, and invite sleep, by watching the revolving light down the harbor. Thanks to Mrs. Peirce and Mrs. Woodbridge.

The usual services will be held in the Park Avenue Congregational church next Sunday. Morning service at 10:45 Sabbath school and bible class 12:15 Junior C. E. at 4 p.m. At 6:30 p.m. V. P. S. C. E. led by Mr. Ralph Taylor of Pleasant Street church, Arlington. At 7:30 p.m. short praise and preaching service. Rev. Dr. Sternberg will preach at each service.

Miss E. T. Bennett of 178 Westminster avenue was present in Springfield as a delegate to the meeting of the Christian Endeavorers, which was held in that city on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. A banquet was enjoyed at the Massasoit House on Wednesday evening, by the large company.

On Friday morning, one of the clearest and rarest of these October days, Arlington Heights revealed herself amidst all the charms of the Autumn time. The view as seen from Dr. Ring's sanatorium, and from the home of Mrs. Leander Peirce, is not easily surpassed.

Rev. Dr. Stembbridge and Mr. F. M. Goodwillie attended a council in Wood Memorial church, Cambridge, last Thursday afternoon and evening. It was for the purpose of ordaining Mr. C. H. William to the gospel ministry and initiating him as pastor of that church.

We regret to lose such delightful people. As Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sweet from our midst, and yet rejoice in the good fortune of Mr. Sweet in assuming a more responsible position in St. Paul under the Northern Pacific railroad.

The Arlington Heights Improvement association of which Mr. Benjamin G. Jones is president, will hold an important meeting in Union hall on Monday evening.

The M.M.M. club is greatly increasing its membership. The decision to make its meeting services of intellectual growth has stimulated the attendance of the members.

The officers of the Y.P.S.C.E. of the Park Avenue church held an executive meeting last Monday night with Miss Edith Mann. Several plans for new and effectual work were approved.

Miss Edith Ring is soon to visit New York city and several points in New Jersey. Miss Ring will be away for a month.

Mr. Kimball Farmer, who is janitor at the Cutter school house, has held this same position for thirty consecutive years.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Jernegan with friends from Lawrence, dined on Thursday, with Mrs. E. T. Hornblower, on Academy street.

Mrs. Mixer of 184 Westminster avenue, who has been visiting in New Hampshire, and who is still there, is soon to return home.

The next meeting of the Sunshine club will be held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Kimball, 10 Central street.

Dr. Ring is having his sanatorium painted anew, and he is also making many improvements upon the interior of his widely known house.

We caught a glimpse on Wednesday of the new Baptist church building with its steeple pointing heavenward. The Baptist people are hustlers.

Mr. Fred Hadley has recently been changed from night to day duty. He holds the responsible position of chief electrician at the south station, Boston.

Harold Ring, of the firm of Jose, Parker & Co., is on a business trip to Maine.

A good audience was present at the barrel social in Crescent Hall on Tuesday evening.

Mr. J. R. Mann is away on his vacation spending it as usual in the woods Maine, shooting, etc.

Harrie W. Peirce is now on his last year in the three years' course at Harvard Veterinary college.

Mrs. Breed of Wachuset avenue has returned from a short visit with her mother in Soumerville.

Mr. Schenck, of Appleton street, is home for a few days.

The rails on the electric road are laid to North Lexington.

CRESCENT HILL CLUB.
 The membership list is rapidly increasing, and this winter promises to be a banner year. Two applications are in the hands of the investigating committee.

Last Tuesday was Ladies' night, and a very large number of the lady friends of the club attended, it being the largest and most successful ladies' night that the club has yet held. Between the dances a megaphone exhibition was given, the graphophone being operated by Mr. Barker. The exhibition was greatly enjoyed, and consisted of popular marches, comic songs, recitations, etc. After the refreshments had been partaken of the company returned to the dance hall and were entertained. Mr. Jos. Law, Mr. H. C. Lincoln and Miss Ida Law, the two gentlemen giving an exhibition of cake walking, both Negro and Hebrew, the Hebrew cake walk earning three encores. Miss Law sang a number of songs in a very creditable manner.

BELMONT.
 Wednesday was Donation Day at the Hospital. Tea was served from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

It is more than possible that the Harvard Golf club will secure golf grounds here in Belmont.

Mr. Frederic M. Dodge and family, who have been in Cohasset during the summer, are now at home.

Town Treasurer Cheney took in all there was to be seen in Boston on Dewey Day. Mr. Cheney doesn't often take a day off, but when he does he makes it count in more ways than one.

The High School Literary and Debating society held their first entertainment of the season in the High school building on Wednesday.

Alfred Hill had a week's shoot in New Hampshire.

Postmaster Frost is at the Massachusetts Hospital by reason of illness. Joseph Quigley is supplying Mr. Frost's place at the office.

The High school boys are practicing the foot-ball game in dead earnest. They are determined to hereafter win at this game.

Several of our people attended the inaugural ceremonies of President Paunce at Brown University on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks who have spent most of the summer at the mountains, have returned home.

The committee for the revision of the constitution of the High school literary society recently held a meeting in the High school building.

Treating Insomnia.
 So many people suffer from insomnia nowadays that it is a wonder they do not adopt the time honored custom of French kings and indeed of our ancestors generally, the "en cas" by the bedside, the meal of fruit or bread and cold chicken, put ready in case of wakefulness. Many a merry little meal might be eaten in the middle of the night, when thoughts crowd on the mind and care sits heavy. It is the wakeful digestion that claims its due and clamors to be fed. Our forefathers were wise, and many a hunter after old furniture knows the quaint little cupboard with a grated door which served for the night meal and is now sometimes labeled a cheese cupboard. A bedside book is of no use when the pangs of hunger make for mastery, but with a book and a "snack" one can contrive to pass some pleasant hours, even when sleep does not touch one's eyelids and the sweet boon of unconsciousness evades one's grasp.—New York Times.

Taking Umbrage.
 A few idlers (no very unusual thing) were lounging in front of the shop of the baillie of the burgh, among whom the laird espied the village Aesculapius, who was his political oracle, and thus addressed him:

"How's a' w' ye the day, doctor? Only political news?"

"Nothing very particular," replied the doctor; "only it is said that the Dutch have taken umbrage at"—Here the doctor got a touch on his shoulder from his shop boy, who acquainted him that a valuable patient was waiting for him, and he broke off abruptly from his political laird.

"Ta'en Umbrage!" exclaimed the laird. "Mercy upon us! Hae they ta'en Umbrage? Baillie, ken ye if it's a wa'd town or no?"

"A wa'd town!" said the baillie; "nae sic thing. It's a sugar island and ane o' the sweetest o' them. The article's up already, but ye shall hae a stane weight hame w' ye at the auld price."—Cornhill.

It Carries the Current.
 "If I were you, I wouldn't lean against that post. You might get hurt."

The speaker was a policeman, and the person to whom his words were addressed was a young fellow who stood under an iron awning with one hand resting on an iron post which helped to support the awning. The young man jerked his hand away quickly.

"What's the matter with the post?" he asked. "It looks all right."

"Yes, it does," responded the policeman, "and it may be all right. But it's iron, and its surface is wet from the rain that is falling. There are a whole lot of telephone and telegraph wires in the vicinity. One of them may be mixed up with an electric light wire somewhere and may also be rubbing up against some part of this awning. Understand? If it should be, the combination would be one that, with the water that is running down the post as a conductor, would be apt to put you out of existence. I've seen one man killed in just that way, and I really don't want to see another. That's all. Goodby."

Then the policeman walked off down the street, leaving the young fellow staring first at the post and then at the wires overhead. But as long as the saunterer remained under the awning he kept his hands away from the wet iron.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Not Wanting a Job.
 When the late W. E. Gladstone was chancellor of the exchequer, one day he was in the shipping department of the government office getting some information and figures for the coming budget. While thus engaged a Sunderland shipowner called to see Mr. Lindsey, the then member for Sunderland.

While waiting for Mr. Lindsey to come in the shipowner got his eye on Mr. Gladstone and was watching him closely. After doing so a little while he thus addressed him:

"Thou seemst a good writer and clever at figures. I'll give thee £100 a year, and that's an offer thou'lt not get every day!"

Mr. Gladstone thanked him and said he would see Mr. Lindsey.

Just then Mr. Lindsey entered. Then Mr. Gladstone told Mr. Lindsey of the offer his friend had made him.

Mr. Lindsey said it was a very good offer, but he did not know if Mr. Gladstone could be spared. Anyway he had better introduce them. Turning to his friend, the shipowner, he said: "Allow me to introduce you to W. E. Gladstone, chancellor of the exchequer—Mr. So-and-so, Sunderland." The amazement of the shipowner cannot be described. The Grand Old Man laughed immediately.—London Answers.

Willing to Compromise.
 About the middle of the civil war a freshly appointed colonel, with a newly enlisted regiment, joined the Union forces in the far south. One bright October morning word was received that a small detachment of General Wheeler's cavalrmen was on the other side of the hill, and a force started out in pursuit. The next day the Confederates were reported miles distant in the opposite direction. The third day the new colonel and a veteran brigadier started out for a pleasure ride. A mile from camp they rode into the fugitive Confederates, who had been circling the camp for a week. It was a narrow escape, but they got away unharmed.

After it was over the general said to the colonel, "Well, what do you think of war now?"

"Is Wheeler in this neighborhood much of the time?" replied the colonel evasively.

"All the time. He is here, there and everywhere. What do you think of the prospect?"

"Well," answered the colonel reflectively, "I wonder whether there isn't some way this infernal thing can be compromised!"—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Yankee Joker Abroad.
 A story on the fraudulent conferring of degrees is told in the London Post, which, while it may not be strictly accurate, is not without interest. It seems that a chimney sweep took proceedings against an Edinburgh man for debt, and in the course of his evidence the sweep mentioned that his name was "Jamie Gregory, LL. D." The following colloquy ensued between the witness and the sheriff:

"What, doctor of laws or letters? And where on earth did you get that distinction?"

"It was a fellow fra' an American university, an I sweepit his chimney three times. 'I canna pay ye cash, Jamie Gregory,' he says, 'but I'll make ye an LL. D., and we'll ca' it quits.' An he did."

Another Mystery.
 "The study of the occult sciences interests me very much," remarked the new boarder. "I love to explore the dark depths of the mysterious, to delve into the regions of the unknown, to fathom the unfathomable, as it were, and to—"

"May I help you to some of the hash, professor?" Interrupted the landlady. And the good woman never knew why the other boarders smiled audibly.—Chicago News.

The Old, Old Story.
 Old Lady (reading a letter from her son in college)—Lor' sakes alive! Josiah, if John ain't gone an done it! An he warn't no hand fer the gals, nuther!

Her Worse Half—Wut's the trouble, Samantha?

Old Lady—Why, he says he's fallen in love with Belle—er—Belle Letters.—Brooklyn Life.

All mechanical powers, the screw, lever, pulley, inclined plane, wedge, wheel and axle, were known to the ancients and used in everyday life.